Repeater Control in Asp.Net

It is a data bound control that is used to display repeated list of items from the associated data source.

- We can split markup tags across the templates.

- No support for inbuilt layout or styles.

- Explicitly declare all layouts, formatting & Styles.

- ✓ It displays data items in a repeating list, similar to datalist, the content and layout of list items in Repeater is defined using templates.

- ✓ The repeater control may be bound to a database table, xml file etc.

- ✓ It provides with the maximum amount of flexibility in rendering a set of database records.